OIL FOR THE BODY

You can't lose an atom without feeling it. The body is like an engine, a watch, a machine; must be kept in good order to run right.

That's the reason Scott's Emulsion is so successful in all wasting diseases. It feeds, nourishes and strengthens when ordinary food won't.

Doctors say Scott's Emulsion is the best nourishment for those who are not as well as they should be.

We use the whole oil in Scott's Emulsion because the great reputation of cod liver oil as a food and medicine was made by using it in this way. Substitutes in the shape of wines, cordials, extracts, etc., should be carefully avoided.

THE FIRE CROWD.

"There is one curious thing connected with fires," said a thoughtful man, "and that is the fact that while the fireman is always a hero in the public estimate and while men and women have all kinds of admiration for these brave fellows they yet want to see them get the worst of it in the fight against the flames. It is an interesting fact that the average man and woman are not at all anxious to see the firemen get the fire under control. They would much rather see the flames spread until the affair developed into an immense conflagration. Mind you, the trait is not at all vicious. There is no malice in it. It is simply the love of excitement and adventure, things that are so deep rooted in human nature that we may not control them at will. Besides, we want to develop our heroes to the limit. We want our firemen to fight a good fight against long odds and under great difficulties. We cannot quarrel with this feeling in the human makeup. After all, it is what one may call the poetry of human nature, and without it this old system of ours would be dull and prosaic indeed. Of course, you will always find a few persons around a fire who are directly concerned in the fight the firemen are making. They want to see the flames put out. In the case of some of the spectators it means bread and meat. It means the loss of a position or may be the loss of home. But I was speaking of the vast majority of men and women who gather to witness a fire. The fire is the thing with them. They want to see a big blaze and hear the crash of the walls and all that sort of thing. Did you ever take the trouble to analyze a fire crowd? In the first place an alarm of fire will draw a crowd quicker than anything in the world. Whenever the bells begin to clang and the engines go rushing down the street you will see men, women and children rushing this way and that in order to see as much as may be seen of the fire and fire fighters. The hour of day or night does not make so much difference. The crowd will get there in some way and for some reason, though the great majority of the persons have no sort of interest other than idle curiosity. Once on hand, they want to see a good fire, and that's why I say they want to see the flames get the best of the firemen. They will go away and talk about what a game fight the fire laddies made. Human nature is a curious thing, is it not?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATED.

in dress parade; Court Madrone, No. 158, F. O. A., and their visitors, all neatly dressed in white; Court Star of Redwood, No. 7912, A. O. F. The Native Daughters were next in line, and made the hit of the day in their beautiful gold poppy bedecked coach drawn by four coal black prancing horses in gold-colored net and trappings. Then followed Redwood Parlor, No. 66, Native Sons; San Mateo Parlor, No. 23, was also out in force; Metamora Tribe, No. 24, of Redmen, in their native costumes, followed by Olive Branch Rebekah Degree Lodge, No. 48, and Bay View Lodge, No. 109, I. O. O. F., all in appropriate regalia. They were followed by San Mateo Lodge, No. 188, and officers and members of the Grand Lodge of California, F. and A. M. Then came the Redwood City and Halfmoon Bay Fire Departments in their neat uniforms and gaily decorated apparatus, who put a finishing touch of color to the long procession. The line of march was through the principal streets and terminated at the courthouse site, where the formal ceremonies were held.

Hon. Geo. C. Ross, as president of the day, made a felicitous and very appropriate address to the vast assemblage. He stated that this memorable day would stand out above all others in the history of San Mateo county, and that from now on its people will stand united. In closing, President Ross announced that $135,000 for the building fund was in the hands of the treasurer.

After an overture by the band, the "Call to Arms," under the direction of F. F. Jeffers, was sung by the children of the combined schools of the county. The Rev. J. H. Kimball of San Mateo then offered up a prayer, in which he made a touching appeal for a unity of action, a spirit of concentration and an absence of sectionalism. A very impressive song, "Sweet is Thy Mercy," was then rendered by the Redwood Choral Society, under leadership of J. Barnby, which was followed by another selection, "Laying the Corner Stone," composed expressly for the occasion by A. B. way and sung by all the school children of the county.

The officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons of California were seated upon the platform adjoining that occupied by the Board of Supervisors, and Grand Master Charles W. Nutting was introduced to the assemblage and addressed the audience before the regular ceremonies of laying the corner stone was proceeded with by the Masons, who had been requested upon behalf of the citizens of the county to perform that duty. Grand Master Nutting in a few well chosen remarks stated that the future events of the county must of necessity date from the 2d day of May. His remarks were timely and well received, and there was special reference to the progressive American schoolboy.

The Grand Lodge then proceeded with the impressive and imposing Masonic ceremonies of laying the corner-stone, Grand Master Nutting being assisted by Charles L. Patton, Deputy Grand Master; Wm. S. Wells, Senior Grand Warden; Ralph Lowe, Junior Grand Warden; Wm. B. Lawrence, Grand Treasurer; Geo. Johnson, Grand Secretary; Joseph Levy, Grand Lecturer; C. G. Lancheit, Grand Chaplain; Harry S. Johnson, Assistant Grand Secretary; Geo. T. Rodden, Grand Marshal; Jessie Pentin, Grand Bible Bearer; John W. Hoyt, Grand Sword Bearer; Arthur Rogers, Senior Grand Deacon; D. W. Smyth, Junior Grand Deacon; J. W. Poole, Senior Grand Steward; J. C. Jens, Junior Grand Steward; Alvin P. Rogers, Grand Pursuivant; Sam'l D. Mayer, Grand Organist, and George P. Adams, Grand Tyler.

In order that an enduring record may be found by future generations a history of San Mateo county, the county map, the Sequoia Union High School manual containing the course of study, the school songs, pictures of the victorious debating team, the county register, the descriptive San Mateo county folder, the Masonic letter accepting the ritualistic duties, and the city and county papers were placed in the casket within the aperature and as the last solemn words were uttered the massive stone swung into place on the southeast corner of the foundations. The Choral Society then sang "Oh, Hail Us, Ye Free," at the conclusion of which President Ross introduced the Orator of the day, Hon. Geo. W. Dickie of San Mateo, as a man who could both say and do things; the man who superintended the construction of our greatest naval fighters, the Oregon and the California. Mr. Dickie spoke as follows:

It is quite in the nature of things that we should celebrate the laying of foundation stones for courthouses and churches, representing, as they do, "the law of the gospel,"—justice and mercy—the one with its solid, square massiveness, expressing in stone its inflexibility of character; the other with its wealth of delicate gothic tracery, pointing ever upward to something better than justice, to something grander than the assertion of the rights of man, the ability to give to and suffer for others.

Yet these two great elements in human character must stand in their proper order. The beautiful tracery of self-sacrifice must grow out of the solid buttresses of justice. Yet these two great human institutions are temporary, and no matter how solid and strong we may build them they are but symbols of something better, something that cannot be expressed in stone but must be hewn out of the living hearts of men. We have a book known as the holy book. Masons carry it in [illegible] presumption on such occasions as this with the [illegible] beware to swear to." You have such a fact [illegible] that the law obtains because that when a man even though he be a bad man lays his hand on this book he will be inspired to tell the truth and nothing but the truth.

Now the confidence that men hold where judgment is given and justice dispensed between man and man, the objection that men hold if there is that may meet man and there seek to feel and grope for the hand of God that they may be lifted up and strengthened and the book that seeks to show the way whereby justice and mercy may meet and merge themselves into love, are symbols of things not yet complete and they each point to a time that lies in the future possibilities of the race, when the symbol will not be needed any more, because the thing signified has become part of the life and character of man.

The Book tells us that when the law was given to the Hebrew people it was closely bound up with the religious life of the people, and it is quite significant that the mercy seat was above the ark of the covenant. This meant much that is not yet realized. The majesty of the law and the sovereignty of God awed men and kept them far off from the mercy seat. The Book tells us that God instructed the great law giver of the Hebrew people to take a plate of pure gold and engrave upon it as a signet is engraved, "Holiness to the Lord," and place it on the forehead of the High Priest, so that all the people might see it as he stood before the altar to plead for the people. These people looked upon this bright symbol for many generations. It has a deep meaning. Most of them no doubt thought it was only intended as an ornament on the crown of the High Priest, as many in this town and county will consider this Court House an ornament in the community, but as the life of the nation developed deep thinking men began to suspect that this thing was something more than an ornament, that there was prophecy in it, that somehow it pointed to something that might be realized in the hearts and lives of men. One of their great thinkers, looking far ahead, but with a clear vision said: "And in those days there shall be 'Holiness to the Lord,' on the bells of the horses in the streets of Jerusalem, and the throught brightens, as he exclaims, Yea, the time shall come that not only on the vessels of the Lord's house, but on the pots and pans in the kitchens of the people there shall be 'Holiness to the Lord.' The incompleteness of the symbol is manifested when the thing signified becomes part of the life of a people. So when justice and right between man and man become part of the life and character of all the people, the Court House will not be necessary. This Court House, though built of enduring material, may not last to see that time. Yet I believe the time will come when the mottoes that adorn our courthouses, some of which will no doubt be engraved on the prominent stones of this building, shall be engraved so deeply in the hearts of the people that courts will no longer be necessary. Neither will churches be needed when man has reached his perfect development.

The Seer of Patmos looked for a church in the new city that came down bright and golden from above, but there was no temple there, for they needed no such introduction to the presence of Him who was ever in their hearts. The human race is building for itself a character (the scientific men of to-day call this process evolution) but no matter what the name of the structure may be it has been slowly rising throughout the ages of man's history on earth. sometimes progress has been slow, sometimes convulsions have shaken down some of the works; the builders have often neglected the work and generations have passed without progress; at other times bad materials have been worked into the walls and the work of one generation must be pulled down by the next, out through misfortunes and defections, amid fierce battle and slothful indifference, the walls of this great human structure are gradually rising. Courthouses and churches, universities and colleges, are all parts of the scaffolding, very necessary while the work is going on, and as the walls rise higher the scaffolding becomes more extensive and the bracing for it more elaborate, but when the crowning stone of the finished structure is laid, then the scaffolding being no longer needed, will be taken down that this great building representing a finished manhood may stand forth forever in all its magnificent perfection. We are in our day laying on the walls of this great building of human progress, our contributions to the progress of the race. Our to-days and yesterdays are the materials we use in this great work. Let us be careful how we do our part, let it be strong and true for we are far from the top and the workers that come after must depend on what we have done to carry out what they propose to do. As we look down from the stage where we are working, to the beginnings of this structure, we can note how much we owe to the faithful builders of the past. What we are to do now depends on the stability of what has been done in the past. We are apt to boast of what we can do in this enlightened age, forgetting that we are administrators of a vast inheritance and if we are building faster than our fathers did let us also be careful to do as good work or our children may have to pull down some of our work we are so proud about. This great thing called human progress has a wondrous growth and the student can trace it back to the time when man began to learn that Nature was but his instrument and made his first infantile efforts to employ her, fashioning weapons from stone or flint that barely sufficed to protect him against his enemies of the brute creation, down to this twentieth century of light and progress, in which we find him wielding at will the phantom of steam and the lightening of electricity, traversing earth and seas by a power which Nature, unknown to him, was laying up for him in deep store houses at the time when his naked foot first trod the earth he was destined to rule, and how an ever-increasing knowledge has been enriched and expanded by his ability to record his experience in the imperishable symbols of languages that have arisen and advanced with the rising tide of human progress.

As we stand on the scaffolding of the twentieth century doing our little part on this great structure of human progress, some working wisely to rear the structure still higher, and others unwisely obstructing the work, we are sometimes almost discouraged at the slow progress made, and though our hearts may be stout and brave, we feel that the completed structure is still far in the future. Yet the time will come when all the scaffolding will be removed and courthouses will no longer be needed where men meet to adjust their differences. They will then become assembly halls where men will meet to help each other. This glorious edifice of a completed manhood, is not only a future possibility, it is the only logical conclusion of all our working—the inevitable result of the upward struggle of the race.

"Then let us pray that come it may
As come it will for a' that,
That sense and worth o'er a' the earth
May bear the gree, an' a' that;
For a' that, an' a' that,
Its comin' yet for a' that,
That man to man, the warld o'er,
Shall brothers be for a' that."

Mr. Dickie's masterly address was followed by "Auld Lang Syne," sung by the audience, led by the Choral Society, and after the benediction by Rev. C. C. Kirtland and an appropriate selection by the band, the ceremonies closed.

The people then gathered under the shade of the spreading trees across the street, on the school grounds. Here an abundant repast was served, the barbecue in all its details being under the skillful and able management of W. Z. Price, whose extensive experience in such enterprises made this part of the program one round of long-continued success. Mr. Price was assisted by the local firm of Hind & Langley, and the excellent roasts furnished by them testified to the perfect fulfillment of their duties.

At 2 o'clock the town pavilion was opened for dancing. A special feature introduced was the May-pole dance by a dozen school girls.

The festivities closed with a dance at the Alhambra in the evening—the finale to such a day as San Mateo county has never before witnessed.

SHORT LOCAL SUGGESTIONS

A party of nine took a very enjoyable trip to the city Sunday on Frank Granger's launch.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Chappel of Stanford, spent a couple of days in Redwood this week at the Capitol.

The Eastern Star will hold a special meeting next Monday evening. All members are urgently requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williamson were here from Pescadero Monday attending the corner-stone ceremonies and visiting their friends.

J. Fusch came through town Thursday advertising his Eureka Insect Exterminator, taking fleas off of dogs on the street. See his ad.

W. A. Shrewsbury was confined to his bed part of the week as the result of a fall which he had some weeks ago while wiring the high school building.

Among those from San Francisco who attended the celebration Monday were the following former Redwoodites: Mrs. H. Snow, Mrs. L. Stelter and Mrs. Reeves.

James Pullen, an employe of the auditing department of the Southern Pacific Co. at their San Francisco office, has decided to spend a couple of months here at the Capitol.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Kirtland are spending the week at San Juan. To-morrow Mr. Kirtland will exchange pulpits with Rev. Kimball of San Mateo at both morning and evening services.

R. P. Hurlbut Jr., who has been in Redwood for some weeks past adorning the windows of many of our business houses, was operated on for appendicitis at one of the San Francisco hospitals last week. Reports from the city say that he is improving slowly.

On Monday while a wagon load of electrical supplies was being taken through town some hair which was on the load took fire presumably from a spark from a cigarette which one of the occupants was smoking. Quite a little blaze ensued, but it was quickly doused by the aid of a hose which was produced.

Miss Ella Nisson, who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hartley for the past ten years, was united in marriage to Mr. A. Gibson at San Mateo last week. Mr. Gibson is in the contracting business in San Mateo, and the young couple will make their home in that city. Mrs. Gibson's many Redwood friends wish her much happiness in her married life.

Rose, M. Hedges' old horse, whose familiar figure has been seen around the courthouse grounds for many years, is dead. The animal's passing occurred last week. Rose, who had an eventful career, was known by most every one in the valley. She had reached the ripe old age of 33 years. The animal was bred by Eugene O'Neill of Belmont and for many years owned by the late Valentine Hussey.

Millar Paulsen is actively engaged on the construction of an automobile in which he intends to sport this summer. The vehicle will be built along the most approved lines and will be thoroughly up to date. It will be propelled by a four-horse power gasoline engine and will have a seating capacity of two. Mr. Paulsen is a thorough mechanic, so his auto without doubt will prove a success.

At the last meeting of the library board it was decided to order a supply of books and to this end about 100 of the latest popular novels will be purchased next week. Persons who are capable of judging pronounce our library as one of the best equipped of the small libraries of the state. Not only are the best books of fiction to be found there but of history and biography as well.

The many friends of Mrs. Ann Packard will regret to hear of her death which occurred in San Francisco last Saturday at the home of a son. Mrs. Packard has lived in this county for many years and was highly esteemed at San Gregorio, where she so long made her home. She was a native of Massachusetts aged 71 years. She leaves two sons and one daughter to mourn her loss. The funeral took place at Cypress Lawn on Tuesday. The deceased was the aunt of Mrs. Lottie Wilcox of this city.

Don't forget that next Saturday night at the Alhambra "Santiago" will be produced. The cast is composed entirely of home talent and will be well worth attending. Tickets now on sale at the Pioneer Drug Store, where seats may be reserved.

The show window of the Palo Alto hardware store is dressed this week in a manner which reflects much credit on the window-dresser, Mr. James Fayen. The central feature is a miniature automobile made up entirely of oil stoves and parts of cooking stoves. A bicycle lamp shines forth from the front while the machine is seemingly operated by a small negro boy who is dressed as a chaffeur.

One of the old landmarks, the old house next to Tribolet's butcher shop, is being torn down to make room for improvements. The house has been standing for nearly forty years. R. C. Holmquist has purchased the property and will at once commence the erection of a business block. His intention is to put up a handsome edifice which can be used for store purposes. It will be the entire depth and width of the lot and will have a fine large 12-foot plate glass show window in front. Mr. Holmquist is one of Redwood's most prosperous and energetic business men and believes in doing well whatever he sets out to do.

Some of San Francisco's light-fingered gentry made a good haul here during the celebration Monday. During the laying of the corner stone Mr. Taylor, the well known Menlo Park blacksmith, was relieved of $365 which he conveniently carried in one of his back pockets. Wilson McPherson shared a like misfortune, $150 of his hard-earned cash being abstracted from his trousers while he was watching the ceremony. Later in the day H. E. Heiner unknowingly and unwillingly parted with $65 of poll tax money which he was about to turn in from collections. The thieves showed that they were good judges of gems, for, not being satisfied with the large amount of money realized, they also carried away a $125 diamond pin which Dr. May, the Palo Alto occulist, had been wont to adorn his cravats. All the losses were reported to the officers soon after they occurred, but the work was of such a polished order that none of the misdoers were apprehended.

A heavy weight flatic contest will be held in the Alhambra Theatre to-night in which Fritz Hanson of Mayfield and Jack Kelley of San Francisco will be the principals. Hanson is the man who lately won a fight from Pease of San Mateo before the Mayfield club. Preliminary bouts will be fought by Frank Polander of Mayfield and and Tom O'Neill of San Francisco, and by Johnny Young of San Francisco and Petaluma Kid of Petaluma. The admission will be $1; reserved seats $1.50.

Many of the local organization have accepted the invitation of Palo Alto to turn out in the parade at that place on July 4th. The proposed celebration is to be one of the finest ever seen in this valley, and no stone will be left unturned to accomplish this end. From the sentiment expressed here a great many will attend.

M. H. Thompson returned home Thursday after a two months' visit to Arizona. He found the climate too trying, although during the latter part of his stay he increased in weight and strength. He was naturally fatigued by his trip home, but it is to be hoped that the change will have proven beneficial.

The members of the degree team of the Redmen are earnestly requested to be present on Monday night at their wigwam for the purpose of conferring the warriors' and chiefs' degrees upon several newly adopted members.

The high school baseball nine defeated the grammar school team in a close game yesterday afternoon. The score stood 6 to 5.

Rev. Francis Watry, formerly pastor of the Pescadero Conregational Church, has resigned from the Santa Cruz Unitarian Church to accept the ministry of a church of that denomination at Santa Ana.

Rev. Mr. Whitmore of Palo Alto will occupy the pulpit in the M. E. Church tomorrow morning and evening.

N. H. Martin and his daughter, Miss Florence of Lobitus are spending the week with Mrs. Mansfield.

PESCADERO NOTES.

PESCADERO, May 6.—Mrs. J. Coville of Mountain View died at her home of typhoid pneumonia last Monday. Deceased taught school in this place when she was Miss Jacobs, and was greatly respected and loved by those who knew her best. She leaves a husband and one daughter to mourn her untimely end. Mrs. L. Chandler, aunt of the deceased, went over on Thursday to attend the funeral.

George Wood, a son of Mrs. E. Leighton of this place, suffered the loss of his private residence in San Francisco last Saturday afternoon by fire. The valuable papers and part of the furniture were saved.

Mrs. W. Rey and Miss E. Leighton were elected delegates from Fern Lodge to attend the Grand Lodge to convene in San Francisco next week.

Mrs. Knapp, formerly of this place, is here on a vist and to dispose of some town property.

C. J. Coburn is attending a law suit in Redwood this week.

All the farmers are busy putting in their crops, as the ground is in very fine shape.

Charles N. Fox Laid to Rest.

The last honors which are attributed to the memory of a departed brother were paid to the late Charles N. Fox at the residence of the deceased, in Oakland, last Wednesday, by the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows. Members of the order made appropriate remarks, but the principal address of the occasion was made by Mr. Fox's old pastor, Rev. H. E. Jewett, who years ago had charge of the Redwood City Congregational Church. The remarks were simple, but told in a direct way of the life and deeds of the deceased. Music was rendered by the Masonic quartette of San Francisco. Pending the instructions from Judge Fox's relatives, who are in Europe, the remains were placed in the columbarium of the Oakland crematory, where they will be incinerated later.

The deceased was at one time editor of the Times-Gazette and also served the county several terms in the capacity of District Attorney. He was a man of the highest character, benevolent and kindly and it was a loss to the community when he changed his residence from this city. He was the organizer of the local Order of Odd Fellows.

Monologue Recital.

Miss Pauline Hess, a well known and highly accomplished young lady of Alameda, will give a monologue recital in the parlors of the Capitol Hotel this evening at 8:30. An Alameda paper, in speaking of an entertainment recently given by the young lady in her home town said: "An exceedingly enjoyable monologue entertainment was given last evening by Miss Pauline Hess at Adelphian Hall in Alameda. Miss Hess is a most capable and finished artiste and delighted a large and appreciative audience." An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged at the door.

Delegates to State Convention.

The Republican County Committee, at a meeting held last Monday in the office of George C. Ross, elected the following delegates to represent this county at the Republican State Convention which will convene at Sacramento May 16th: Delegates-at-Large, George C. Ross and Henry Ward Brown; First Township, W. J. Martin; Second Township, J. P. Weller; Third Township, Grove Ayre; Fourth Township, Horace Nelson; Fifth Township, R. E. Steele.

Applied for Letters.

J. R. Hodgson has applied in the Superior Court for letters of administration on the estate of Martin S. Norton, who died on Governor's Island last February. The property of the estate in this county consists of personal property and money in bank the amount of which is not known. It is thought, however, it will not exceed $1700.

COUNTY BOARD IN SESSION

Official Business Transacted by the Supervisors Tuesday and Wednesday.

Clark & Henery Awarded Contract for Construction of Pescadero Creek Bridge.

The Board of Supervisors met Tuesday, having adjourned the day previous to that time. All members were present except Chairman Coleman. On motion of Debenedetti, seconded by Eikerenkotter, McCracken was chosen temporary chairman.

On motion of McEvoy, seconded by Eikerenkotter, the report of the Auditor was referred back for correction.

Health Officer Plymire's report, herewith, covers the month of April:—

"The general health of the county has been fair the past month. One case of diphtheria was reported from Menlo Park and the place was quarantined and later thoroughly fumigated.

"It has been reported to me that on the morning of the 17th of April, six bodies were buried in the homestead district near Colma and a considerable area of ground fenced in for cemetery purposes. On investigation I found the same to be true and so notified the District Attorney on the 18th of April. Since that time thirteen more bodies have been interred, at the rate of one or two a day, making a total of nineteen to date. On the advice of the District Attorney, I visited the place to ascertain if any of the bodies had been interred in the streets, and as near as I could determine no body had been so interred. A sign has beed erected reading, 'The Masonic Cemetery,' and Mr. Blaine, who is superintendent, has applied for permits for bodies interred, but as yet no permits have been issued, pending the advice of the District Attorney in the matter. On the 29th I was informed by the District Attorney that according to law a cemetery had been established and accordingly I should issue permits, since which time no application has been made for permits.

"I have issued 692 burial permits, for which I have collected $692, and 4 disinterment permits for which I have collected $40, making a total of $732 turned over to the County Treasurer as per Auditor's receipt attached."

Following reports were received from county officers and ordered filed:

The following report of P. A. Roussel, superintendent of construction of the new Courthouse, was read and ordered filed:

To the American-Hawaiian & Construction Co., and to James Curry, Superintendent and Foreman in charge of the construction of the new Courthouse at Redwood City:

You and each of you will please take notice that the stone now upon the ground and which you propose to use in the construction of the new Courthouse, and which is to be put in place in the basement story of said new building, is not the stone specified in the specifications on file in the County Clerk's office of said County of San Mateo, and is not the stone contracted for between said county and your company for the construction of said building, and you are hereby notified that if said stone be placed in position and used in the construction of said building, that the same is subject to be removed upon the order of the Board of Supervisors for the reasons above given, and that if said stone is used and placed in said building it shall be deemed so placed at your own cost and expense, and shall not be paid for by said county unless the same is approved by said Board of Supervisors.

Said Board will meet at their chambers at Redwood City, in said county, on the 2nd day of May, 1904.

Yours truly,

P. A. ROUSSEL,

Superintendent in charge of said building on the part of said County of San Mateo.

Redwood City, April 26, 1904.

Messrs. Dolliver, for the architects, and Amwig for the company, addressed the Board in justification of their action in using Colusa instead of Franklin stone. They stated that at the last moment the Franklin people had failed to supply the stone contracted for, and in order to have the corner-stone ready for May 2d no time was left in which to notify or consult the Board. The Colusa stone, they said, was more expensive than the Franklin stone, was equally good and acceptable and was being much used now in new buildings, a notable example being the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco.

McEvoy explained that while he did not object to the change he thought the Board should have some voice in the matter. The contractor had ample time to communicate with the Board in the matter. He did not think the contractors should make such changes at pleasure, and furthermore, he did not think the substitute could be made for the stone for the base under the terms of the contract.

Chairman Coleman said he thought Mr. McEvoy's position was correct, but under the circumstances he would be satisfied to approve the action of the builders. He added, however, that if they did such a thing in future he would not consider it a moment.

On motion of McCracken, seconded by Debenedetti, the substitution was accepted and the action of the builders ratified. The motion prevailed, Mr. McEvoy voting "no".

The following communication was read from J. A. Stephens, attorney for the J. C. Johnson estate. As the party mentioned in the communication had not applied for a license no action was taken in the matter:

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 25, 1904.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, Redwood City, Cal.—

Gentlemen: As attorney for the estate of J. C. Johnson, deceased, I have been informed that a Mrs. E. M. Reynolds is the owner and occupant of a house situated immediately opposite the ranch belonging to the estate of J. C. Johnson, deceased, located near Redwood City.

I am very creditably informed that an application is to be made to the Board of Supervisors by her or her agent for a license to sell liquor at said premises. I am also informed that the house at the present time is not conducted in an orderly or proper manner, but is really a very disorderly house.

A citizen other than the occupant of the premises owned by the Johnson estate has informed me that he will also add his voice to mine in asking that the Supervisors refuse to grant a liquor license to Mrs. Reynolds, or to her agent or to any person applying for a license for said house, until the Board of Supervisors can have the propriety of issuing the license to said person or persons investigated.

This petition on my behalf is sought for in the interest of the heirs of the estate of J. C. Johnson, deceased.

Very respectfully yours,

J. A. STEPHENS.

The Board was duly notified that W. P. A. Brewer, M. M. Tompkins and John Mitvalsky were duly elected trustees of Reclamation District 543 at an election held April 16th at San Mateo.

Afternoon Session.

The Board met at 1:30 o'clock pursuant to adjournment at the morning session. Chairman Coleman was present.

W. E. Farre, representing the Price Co., exhibited a fire-proof door which he asked the Board to accept for the new courthouse. His application was referred to the architect.

Clerk Schaberg explained that Mr. Rhea, who had been caring for an abandoned child found near the old schoolhouse building last August, desired to be relieved of his charge. He had written the Children's Home Finding Society of San Francisco and that institution would take the waif for $12 per month, or if the county would advance $35 and give it complete control of the child, it would assume charge of the infant. At the suggestion of the District Attorney, further action was postponed to Wednesday, when Mr. Rhea would be present.

On motion of McEvoy, seconded by Eikerenkotter, the request of Constable Sheehan of San Mateo to have a telephone put in his residence was granted.

The matter of opening bids for the construction of a bridge over Pescadero creek was deferred to Wednesday.

Several streets in San Bruno Park dedicated to the public by the Hensley-Green Company were accepted by the Board.

The following resolution, presented by Eikerenkotter and seconded by McCracken, was accepted by the Board:

WHEREAS, Certain lands lying near San Bruno, in the County of San Mateo, State of California, have been subdivided into lots and blocks for the purpose of sale; and

Whereas, A certain map showing a subdivision of three blocks into lots has been this day presented to the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, for the purpose of having said Board accept certain portions of avenues delineated on said map for and on behalf of the public, as dedicated to public use; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That that portion of those certain avenues known as Masson, Mills and Huntington avenues, being avenues lying without the limits of any incorporated town, within the limits of the County of San Mateo, and as delineated on that certain map this day presented to the Board of Supervisors, entitled "Map of Blocks 10, 11 and 12, San Bruno Park, San Bruno county, Calif," and property formerly owned by the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Co., as per map of same now on file in the office of the County Recorder of San Mateo county of San Mateo, Cal., be, and they are hereby accepted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, on behalf of the public, as dedicated to public use, and the Clerk of said Board of Supervisors is hereby authorized and directed to endorse upon said map the acceptance of said avenues; provided, however, and upon the express condition that the County of San Mateo does not hereby become responsible or liable for any expense, cost or charge as to such avenues, drives or highways, or any thereof, whether for grading or macadamizing, or for other road work, or for personal or other damages that may result from the condition of any of the said streets or avenues.

The claim of the American Hawaiian Construction Co.'s claim for $8336.25 failed to receive the approval of the Finance Committee and this brought fourth considerable discussion. McEvoy said he would not sign the claim for the reason that he had no knowledge of its correctness. He did not approve the other claim of the contractor for the same reason. He thought the Board was not taking sufficient interest in the construction of the building. Debenedetti, McCracken and Eikerenkotter explained that, inasmuch as the claim was approved by the architect and superintendent, it ought to be allowed. These men acted for the Board.

After a lengthy debate, it was decided that the Board visit the building at every meeting and keep in touch with its construction.

No further business appearing, the Board adjourned to Wednesday, May 4th.

WEDNESDAY'S MEETING.

The Board met at 10 o'clock pursuant to adjournment. All the members were present.

The claim of the American-Hawaiian Construction Co. for $8336.25 was allowed.

The Clerk read the affidavit of publication of D. E. O'Keefe showing that due and legal notice had been given contractors for bids to construct the bridge over Pescadero creek. The bids were then opened as follows:

Pacific Construction Co., S. F.	$12,320
Healy, Tibbitts & Co.	12,000
Jas. A. McMahon	11,900
Cotton Bros. & Co.	10,950
Burrell Construction Co	11,400
Hyde, Hages & Co.	11,800
Clark & Henery	10,460

McEvoy moved that the bids be rejected, as they were all in excess of the Surveyor's estimate. There was no second to the motion.

McCracken said that there was only a small difference and it would be to the best interest of all to award the contract. He moved that the contract be let to Clark & Henery and the chairman be empowered to enter into a contract with the firm and approve the bond. The motion was seconded by Debenedetti and carried, McEvoy voting no.

On motion of Debenedetti, seconded by McCracken, the Clerk was instructed to return checks to the unsuccessful bidders.

On motion of Debenedetti, seconded by McCracken, A. J. Rhea was directed to deliver the abandoned child in his possession to the Children's Home Finding Society of San Francisco, the expense of said trip to be borne by the county.

The matter of closing streets in the City Extension Homestead Association, set for this day, was taken up. Charles L. Patton appeared for the petitioners, E. F. Fitzpatrick for Mr. Bergin, Judge J. F. Sullivan for Mr. Ottoboni and H. W. Brown for Mr. Gilfus. After a very lengthy and heated discussion, a resolution draughted by E. F. Fitzpatrick was adopted on motion of Eikerenkotter, seconded by McCracken. The resolution denies the petition and sets forth that the streets exist on paper only and were never legally opened. The matter is now passed up to the courts.

No further business appearing the Board adjourned to May 16th.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATED.

Laying of Court House Corner Stone Occasion of Rejoicing.

An Event Which Shall Rest Long in the Memory of Our Sons and Daughters.

Last Monday was indeed a memorable day in the history of Redwood, and, in fact, the whole of San Mateo county. It was a day the like of which has never been celebrated in this city; a day which in all probability will not be seen here again for many years to come. But it was an occasion that touched deeply the citizens of the whole county. They came, they saw, and they returned to their respective homes more than satisfied with Redwood, their native county and with the site of the new court-house.

Dame Nature provided all that could be asked. The day was superb and from early morn people from all parts of the county poured into Redwood at a surprising rate. Every train brought crowds and the special rates did much to swell the contributions. The surrounding country was also well represented. Old rigs that had not been used for years were pressed into service; all the old nags were utilized, and many walked from five to ten miles to be present upon this, the natal day of Greater San Mateo County. Every conveyance brought accessions to the assembled residents of our city, and at an early hour all the accommodations in Redwood were taken, so that neither love nor money could gain admittance for newly-arrived visitors. Besides people from every town or village in San Mateo and Santa Clara counties (for Halfmoon Bay alone sent several hundred representatives), there were large delegations from San Francisco, Marin county and from even the city of Stockton, swelling the total number of those who accepted the Redwood hospitality to several thousand.

The occasion was the laying of the corner stone of San Mateo county's new $200,000 court-house, and it was an event which shall rest long upon the memory of all our sons and daughters. But the most gratifying part of the whole celebration was the burying the hatchet of sectionalism and the blossoming forth of a magnanimous spirit of unity. When we look back upon the turbulent strife and discord that has shaken our county government for many years; when we realize that at last this local contention is over, and when we thoughtfully conjure the words of the President of the day, Hon. Geo. C. Ross, "All for one and one for all," we can truthfully say that May 2, 1904, marks a new era in the prosperity, growth and good feeling of San Mateo county.

In all this generous and commendable spirit of unity the city of San Mateo has been a leader. When a vote was taken at the last meeting of the Athletic Club relative to whether their organization should sojourn to Redwood, every man rose from his seat in the wildest enthusiasm in a clamor to voice the affirmative. Accordingly, under the direction of President F. P. Howard, assisted by Vice-President Jack Cronin and the Board of Directors, Messrs. Melrose, Morton and Brown, a large delegation from the Athletic Club attended in a body, for our neighbors now join heartily in the munificent spirit and the universal pride in our wealthy and prosperous county. As President Howard, voicing the sentiments of his constituents, stated in an interview with a Times-Gazette reporter: "It is not that we love San Mateo less, but we now love San Mateo county more. Every one from the north end of the county, and especially in San Mateo, is interested in that Redwood spirit of harmony, and hereafter we stand united in a common cause for the common good." Too much cannot be said of the magnanimous attitude taken by the citizens, the taxpayers and the press of our sister city, generous San Mateo.

But the decorations! Never no matter upon what occasion, was the town so gaily dressed; never before has Redwood displayed so much holiday attire. The present court-house, with its gaily festooned grand stands, the hotels, depot and business blocks, including banks, stores and the various other branches of trade, were beautifully ornamented with mingled colors, red, green, gold and purple being artistically arranged at all points. Long strings of draping banners were suspended across the streets, and at their intersection the festoons ran diagonally from one corner to another. The glowing colors, the magnificent decorations and the happy crowd made a memorable and imposing scene which no California city of Redwood's size has ever presented to human view.

The public exercises commenced at 11 o'clock with a grand procession and review led by R. H. Jury of San Mateo, the grand marshal of the day, assisted by Joseph J. Bullock, W. A. Maloney, George D. Greeley and Horace Nelson. Odd Fellows' hall was the rendezvous, and after a grand heraldage by the trumpeters the march began. The Redwood City band, re-enforced by some San Francisco specialists, headed the line of march, P. Thorsen occupying the post of drum major. They were followed by the large contingent from the San Mateo Athletic Club, a mass of red and yellow, led by the buglers of the Marine Corps. Next came the Esperito Santo organization of Halfmoon Bay, represented by almost every member; carriages containing the City Councils of Redwood and San Mateo, the officers of the day and the Board of Supervisors; Redwood City Aerie, 418, F. Census Marshal A. J. Carleton's report shows that there are 234 census children in the Menlo Park school district, ten less than last year. This falling off is due to the formation of the Los Lomitas district, that takes in a large portion of the territory of the former district.

A new industry is being started at Ravenswood which will be of great value to all this section of the bay, as many laborers will be required and small farmers can find a ready market for some of their perishable products. A. S. Barger of San Leandro has leased two hundred acres of land belonging to Mrs. G. Frisble, at Ravenswood, which he is planting in tomatoes, as the soil at that place is admirably adapted to the growth of that vegetable. It is Mr. Barger's intention to operate a cannery at that point.

Last Friday evening Miss Clara Stevenson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stevenson of Fair Oaks, gave a reception to her class at Stanford that graduates next week. The handsome Stevenson home was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the fairest sons and daughters of Stanford spent an evening of mirth and merriment as the special guests of the fair young hostess, whose ability as an entertainer is recognized throughout the valley. Miss Stevenson graduates next week. She is a bright handsome young woman with numerous graceful charms that make her popular not only with her classmates but all who know her.

Woman's Duties.

A woman who keeps her house in order and has the care of a family, has just as much responsibility as the man who provides the means to carry on the housekeeping. She is the deserving of the more credit since the demands on her strength are greater. The everlasting sameness about her duties, and the confinement necessary to carry them out is very trying to the nervous system, this produces a strain on the mind that makes her irritable, cross, and dissatisfied, which is just as much a disease as rhematism or catarrh. If the nerves can be built up and made strong by medicine of some kind, this feeling is changed to one of cheerfulness and pleasure in her duties. The medicine that makes strong steady nerves, and prevents disease by building up the entire system, is Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic, a tablet to take at meal time. Cures nervous prostration by making rich blood, feeding the nerves, and making solid flesh at the rate of 1 to 3 pounds a week. This medicine is sold by druggists for 75 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $2, or sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price. Write us about your case. Address Dr. Bosanko Medicine Company, 128 S. Sixth street, Philadelphia, Penn.

Miss Ida M. Snyder,
Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club.

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would observe results they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

Wine of Cardui is a regulator of the menstrual functions and is a most astonishing tonic for women. It cures scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irregular and painful menstruation, falling of the womb, whites and flooding. It is helpful when approaching womanhood, during pregnancy, after childbirth and in change of life. It frequently brings a dear baby to homes that have been barren for years. All druggists have $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

What Time Proves.

This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first sympton of the approach of the grim destroyer. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that had the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years give assurance of its worth, and can be taken with faith that they have the very best cure the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sick headache, dyspepsia, and indigestion, it begins right at the source of the trouble and the removes the cause. We will send a sample box of these pills free, or a full box on receipt of 25 cents. Sold by all druggists for 25 cents per box, or address Dr. Bosanko Medicine Company, 128 S. DIVERS AFTER PEARLS.

Their Work Is Deadly, and They Do Not Live Long.

Pearl fishers do not live long. They often dive to a depth of 100 feet or more, and the strain wears them out before their lives are half over. From these depths a diver usually brings two oyster shells each "trip." It is on the mother of pearl in these that the European depends for his sure profit. Pearls are "plums," which only occasionally fall to his lot. Divers work for a wage, and all the shells brought up are the property of the employer. In "Studies In Brown Humanity" Hugh Clifford describes Malay pearl fishers. They anchor on the oyster beds or as near them as possible, he says, and the diving takes place twice a day.

"All the boats are manned at morning and evening, and the Sulu boys row them out to the point selected for the day's operations. The white man in charge always goes with them in order to keep an eye upon the shells, to resuscitate exhausted divers and generally to look after his own interests.

"Presently a man lowers himself slowly over the side, takes a long, deep breath, and then, turning head downward, swims into the depths, his limbs showing dimly in froglike motions until, if the water be very deep, he is completely lost to sight.

"In a few minutes he comes into view again, his face straining upward, yearning with extended neck for the air that he now needs so sorely. His hands cleave the water in strong downward strokes; his form grows momentarily more distinct, until the fixed, tense expression of his staring face is plainly visible. Then the quiet surface of the sea splashes in a thousand drops of sun steeped light as his head tears through it, and his bursting lungs, expelling the imprisoned air, draw in the breath which they crave in long, hard gasps. If the dive has been a deep one a little blood may be seen to trickle from nose and mouth and ears. At times even the eye sockets ooze blood, the result of fearful pressure to which the diver has been subjected."

CHILDREN ARE SANE.

But Grownup People, Most of Them, Are More or Less Insane.

There is one disadvantage which is involved in the very nature of education—that is, that we have to assume that grownup people are representative. We have even to go the length of assuming that grownup people are sane. When we talk about encouraging health in children and discouraging morbidity, when we talk of such and such a child being abnormal or interesting or neurotic or a genius, we are all the time taking for granted that we ourselves have attained to what is profitable and eternal in human nature. But there is at least something that may reasonably be said upon the other side. It may at least very plausibly be maintained that it is children who are, age after age, sane and reliable and grownup people who are, age after age, more or less fantastic and disconcerting. The great majority of grownup people in any age will be in all probability slightly insane; for since no human philosophy is perfect, and since every human philosophy naturally treats itself as if it were perfect, the chances are in every generation that the majority of educated people will be ecstatically certain of something that is quite untrue. Children, on the other hand, it might be maintained, represent the actual primary and untouched human nature. Whatever agrees with that is sane; whatever disagrees with it is eccentric. Children are always children, or, to limit the matter with more precision, babies, at any rate, are always babies. But few will be so paradoxical as to maintain that men are always men or women always women.—Black and White.

DARNETAL III was bred by James Curran of Redwood City. He was sired by the registered French coach stallion Darnetel II, No. 2491; his dam a full-blooded Cleveland bay mare. He is four years old this spring, stands 16 hands and 3 inches high and weighs 1600 pounds. He is a handsome mahogany brown, high headed and a high stepper with fine knee action. He was bred to a few mares as a two-year old and three of his yearlings can be seen at the Sweeney ranch.

DARNETAL II, the sire of Darnetal III, is a magnificent specimen of the French coach horse (demi sang carrosier). He is a blood bay, stands 17 hands high and weighs 1500 pounds. Bred by M. Renault, Colomby, France. Sired by the great French government stallion Darnetal, No. 12381, by Utique (French government national stud). Dam La Pelote, by Lansborn (French government national stud).

His record of fifteen first prizes in the showring, beating the best horses in France, Canada and California, show him to be the greatest horse of his breed that ever crossed the Atlantic. He is full blood and registered in both France and America.

His prize winnings are as follows: First prize at Government Concours of Alencon' 1891; first prize and diploma of le Pin, 1892; first prize at Caen, 1893; first prize at Paris, 1893. BOOKS YOU OUGHT TO HAVE.

WE have issued three publications which every trans-continental traveler should read.

One is a 24-page booklet—"The Way Book of the Golden State Limited." It is really an annotated time table, briefly describing the cities and points of interest along the El Paso-Rock Island Route.

The other book is called "The Golden State Limited." It contains 16 pages and is devoted almost entirely to a description of the train, which is, as everyone who has seen it knows, the handsomest in the country.

The third publication is a folder "Across the Continent in a Tourist Sleeping Car." In it is a map of the various tourist car lines operated by the Rock Island System, as well as time tables and information as to the cars themselves.

All three books are mailed free to any one who will take the trouble to ask for them.
